Introduction:

We will be aware of what we have done with our weekly updates. We will get some idea about the work of our front end.

Literature review:

E-commerce has significantly transformed the way businesses operate and interact with customers. The advancement of web technologies, secure payment gateways, and user-friendly interfaces has contributed to the growth of online shopping. We are still working. We will work on many more features in the future.

Proposed solution:

Problem 1 solved: We are working on user experience issues. Our website is arranged in such a way that the user can find everything correctly. No more problems. And our website has the facility of ratings. Will not face any cart related issues. There will be no outdated interface issues here.

Weekly progress:

We have done the front page with HTML. Where Navbar has worked. Scrolling through our website is possible. We have added some products. I added the logo. Hover has worked. Trying to make beautiful colorful website with CSS. Added some featured products. I added the cart there. I have added the benefits of ratings. From our website the use will know what are the benefits can be known. Frontend is still a work in progress. After finishing them we will do the backend work. In front we will start the backend work. We will try to make more improvements in our next weekly update.
